Which? Legal Service

Unlimited legal advice from our top consumer lawyers

Sorting out any kind of legal dispute can be a real headache and very expensive. Which? Legal Service deals with tens of thousands of cases every year and knows how to protect your rights and get you justice. Whatever your problem, our team of qualified, experienced lawyers are waiting to help solve it.

Which? Legal Service offers professional legal advice from our expert lawyers at unrivalled value. Our membership is like having your own personal lawyer at the end of the phone. We are not a call centre with operators with briefing sheets; all of our advisers are legally qualified with many years of experience.

We can advise you directly on a wide range of problems involving:

- Problems with products and services you buy
- Employment law
- Speeding, clamping and parking fines
- Holiday problems
- Advice for small business on goods and services
- Civil neighbour disputes
- Tenancy advice for private residential tenants

For under £1 per week (and even less if you are a Which? member), anyone in your household can enjoy unlimited telephone access to Which? Legal Service.
